

NeuroCraft Center

Neurofeedback

First responders, your commitment to safeguarding your communities is invaluable, yet it comes with unique pressures. It's challenging to protect others when dealing with sleepless nights, concerns about potential injuries, and the emotional toll of your demanding job. At NeuroCraft Center, we're committed to your well-being and resilience. Our evidence-based protocols, including microcurrent neurofeedback, provide a scientifically-backed, passive approach to enhancing your brain's adaptability and resilience.

These protocols offer a relaxing space for you to unwind and rejuvenate. Our sessions are short, and most clients see significant improvements in their ability to cope with job-related stress within the first three sessions. The benefits of our neurofeedback are cumulative, leading to long-lasting enhancements in your resilience and adaptability.

You provide the safety that allows others to be present with their families; we aim to return the favor. Our mission is to help you navigate the unique pressures of your job, enabling you to live fuller lives with your own families and loved ones, and giving you peace of mind. We'd be honored to be your partner in resilience and well-being, supporting you in continuing your vital work. Just as you're dedicated to your community's safety, we're dedicated to yours.

Pricing & Scheduling Information:

We're delighted to offer a complimentary initial phone consultation to understand your needs and explain our treatment protocol. Additionally, we're excited to inform you that the OneGoat Foundation will be covering 50% of your treatment cost, which translates to a significant saving of $625 for you.

Our treatment protocol is comprehensive, consisting of ten sessions. During these sessions, we conduct three in-depth brain assessments to establish a baseline of your brain's current state. This allows us to effectively monitor your neurological shifts, healing, and progress towards your unique neuro-optimal state.

Regarding session cost, you'll be responsible for a reduced rate of $62.50 per session, a substantial discount from our standard cost of $165 per session. This makes our advanced treatment more accessible to you.

To schedule please reach out to healingourheroes@neurocraftcenter.com or call the office at 720-460-0290. Scheduling can also be done directly online at: <https://neurocraftcenter.com> Please make sure you mention Revital Colorado for our First Responder's Package.

Additional Information and FAQ:

- For more information on our Healing Our Heroes | First Responder Program and our approach, visit: <https://neurocraftcenter.com/healing-our-heroes>
- See how NeuroCraft empowers first responders and others to overcome trauma through personalized services, enabling them to live life on their own terms.
- Frequently Asked Questions